Ⅲ 次の英文を読み、続く問いに答えなさい。*の付いている単語には注が付いています。

Once, in a quiet village, there lived three brothers. Their names were Gordon, Jack, and Sam. Gordon was the oldest. He was smart but often used *tricks to get the things he wanted. Jack, the second son, was *lazy and never wanted to do any work. Sam, the youngest, was honest, kind, and worked hard every day.

The three brothers lived with their grandfather. One day, their grandfather became very sick. Before he died, he told them a (ア) hidden story. “Long ago, our family was part of a *royal family. A golden *crown, our treasure, was hidden in the forest. Nobody knows how to find it now, but only the one with a good heart can find it,” he said.

After the funeral, Gordon said, “Let’s find the crown! If I find it, I will become rich and powerful!” Jack said, “(イ) That sounds hard. I’ll stay home and sleep.” Sam said quietly, “Let’s find it together.”

But Gordon left the next morning without his brothers. He wanted the crown for himself. In the forest, he met a poor man (ウ) asked for help. Gordon just laughed and *walked past him.

Later that day, Sam also entered the forest. He carried water and food. He saw the same poor man and gave him bread and water. The man smiled and said, “Thank you. I will help you. Follow the yellow birds.” Sam was (エ), but he listened.

The yellow birds flew from tree to tree. Sam followed them and said, “I have been following them for three hours but I can’t find the golden crown.” When he was going home, he noticed the birds in a big old tree. Under it, he saw a stone box. When he opened it, he found a golden crown and a letter. The letter said, “(オ) The true king is not the cleverest or the strongest, but the kindest.”

Gordon also reached the tree, but he was too late. “That’s mine!” he shouted. Sam said, “I don’t need the crown. But Grandpa wanted someone with a kind heart to find it. So I will keep it safe.”

Gordon was angry and said, “(カ) それを手にすることができればなあ, but I can’t do anything now.” He realized that his tricks didn’t work this time.

When Sam returned home, Jack was still sleeping. But when he saw the crown, he was shocked. Sam explained everything.

From that day, things changed. Gordon stopped using tricks. Jack started helping with the *housework. The three brothers worked together and became close.

The golden crown stayed in the house, not for power or money, but to remind them (キ) *kindness and family.
